In response to the tremendous requests by the public and licensees for information regarding real estate transactions in Mexico, ADRE and the AMC/ Real Estate Ad Hoc Committee have developed a series of workshops. The first workshop has Mexican experts with extensive knowledge and expertise speaking on the intricacies of buying and developing property in Mexico. See new faces, get a different perspective and get in-depth information. This first workshop will be on the historical, cultural and practices of what it takes to buy and sell property "South of the Border." This workshop will be the basis for the series of 11 future workshops scheduled over the next few months. Future workshops will enable you to get Continuing Education

- Be able to ask highly prestigious "experts" from Mexico City, questions you may have on buying and developing property in Mexico
- Take advantage of the class without having to travel to Mexico.
